

Update on The HSP Gathering Retreats™
--A note from Jacquelyn Strickland:

The 37th HSP Gathering Retreat scheduled for September 2020 in Colorado has been postponed. I know many of you were planning on attending your first HSP Gathering, or attending your second or third gathering. But I was having trouble finding just the right retreat venue, something so important for the success of the HSP Gatherings. I look for a place in nature, with walking trails, healthy and/or organic food, varied and affordable lodging options, and not too far from a major airport. Even though we have held four past HSP Gathering Retreats here in Colorado, for various reasons I've chosen to not return to those retreat venues.

You can also sign up for my newsletter, HSP Highlights & Insights, to make sure you are aware of smaller weekend retreat opportunities in Colorado. Sign up here. <http://www.lifeworkshelp.com/subscribe.htm>

The HSP Gathering Retreats are not going away ... there will be others, so please stay tuned. Thanks for your interest and patience.
